

Spring Information Open House

With the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (USDA NRCS) and Northern Rhode Island Conservation District (NRICD)

NRICD and USDA NRCS invite you to join us to learn about voluntary conservation programs for farm and forest land owners and managers! Funding and technical assistance is available for conservation practices such as:

- Forest management plans
- Forest trails and landings
- Seasonal high tunnels
- Nutrient management plans
- And more!

Information will also be provided about NRICD'S other programs in Providence County as well as the Farm, Forest, and Open Space tax program.

This program is free, but please visit nricd.org or call 401-934-0840 to RSVP
